WEST VIRGINIA

of Captain B. B. Dovenor, one of West Virginia's prominent men, who served for ten years in Congress as a representative from the First West Virginia district. Mrs. Dovenor now resides in a suburb of the capital.

The bureau of fisheries has notified Congressman Sutherland that a consignment of fish has been sent to Stanley Hodges in West Virginia, in compliance with a recent request from Mr. Sutherland. The fish will be used to stock the South Branch of the Potomac in Peadleton county.

A special pension bill introduced by Congressman Sutherland in behalf of R. Roy Hamby, of Elkins, has passed the House, carrying with it a monthly pension of $12. Also a bill for a pension for Francis M. Cain, of Clarksville, for $24 a month.

Congressman Neely has received notification from the bureau of pensions of an increase in pension for Jacob Philabaum, of West Liberty, to $21.50 a month.

Assistant Secretary to the postmaster general, Otto Praeger, this week sent a communication to Congressman Edward Cooper in response to the latter's request for an extension of railway postal service in his district. Mr. Praeger assured Mr. Cooper that the matter of extending the service on trains No. 24 and No. 21, for Beckley and Mullins, to Tams, will be taken up at once, and that the department plans to put the extension into immediate effect.

A new postoffice has been established at Euzelo, Logan county, with U. S. Richards in charge, and another at Newford, Clay county, with Mary A. Jones the appointee. Other commissions have been issued to Ingle B. Burnett, Cliftonville; Morton Q. Haller, Hepzibah, and Emory O. Conley, Uler.

Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Smith, of Wheeling, the former a claim agent for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company, have been in the city for several days. They were on their way home from Virginia, where they attended the funeral services held for Mrs. Smith's mother.

While it is the usual thing for men to try to break into the employment of Uncle Sam, J. W. Buzzard, postmaster at Potomac Manor, is an exception. He is trying to break out of the government service, but the government will not allow him to quit until it can find a satisfactory man to take his place. He has written Congressman Sutherland to intercede for him so he can take a job with a private concern, which offers him an opportunity he hopes not to be forced to miss.

An interested visitor on the floor of the House of Representatives when President Wilson delivered his "ultimate" speech to Congress, was the Hon. William P. Hubbard, of Wheeling. An ex-member, Mr. Hubbard has the privilege of going upon the floor of the House at any time. Mr. Hubbard stopped off here on his way East, accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Kelly.

The following pension bills have been introduced in the House of Representatives by Congressman Neely:

In behalf of Richard Glover, of Hundred, W. Va., dependent father of a son now deceased, who served in the Spanish-American war, $30 a month; in behalf of Sarah J. Thacher of Moundsville, $30; J. T. Francis, Mobley, $50; Mrs. Sarah M. Parrell, Clarksville, $30; Catherine Fay, Wheeling, $20; John Reid, Cameron, $50; Edward H. Osmond, Gratton, $30.

Similar bills of Major Neely have been introduced in the House of Representatives by Congressman Neely: Thornton A. Merrifield, Fairmont, $24 a month; Rhoda Villers, Hundred, $20 a month; Woodman S. Sample, Fairmont, $50 a month.

The third assistant postmaster general, A. B. Dockery, has notified A. B. Fleisher, superintendent of the West Virginia reformatory at Pruntytown, that a hearing will be held by him on May 1 to ascertain why he should not revoke the permit of the reform school's "News" to be entered as second class mail matter. Mr. Fleisher has written to have Congressman Sutherland intercede. He explains that the publication has been issued irregularly because of the inability to secure a boss printer. Mr. Sutherland has taken the matter up and is trying to get the permit continued without the necessity of a hearing on the subject.
